Dear Parents/Carers

All children are still learning and they will make mistakes, some more serious than others, however we must help them to correct their behaviour rather than condemn them publicly. You may have an issue or situation that is distressing or troubling to you but please remember that your comments can cause the feelings of others to be hurt too. Please speak to a member of staff about issues concerning teaching and learning or children's wellbeing. As you may be aware there have been cases in the recent past regarding the prosecution of people posting comments on various social media websites. I'd just like to remind parents that any comments posted on such websites that intentionally cause an employee, parent or pupil, at the school, harassment, alarm or distress may be subject to police investigation under the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994.

Yours sincerely

Mrs Cathy Carlisle
Headteacher
